The opening of school at Central High is always hectic and full of expectations as students with smiling faces renew old friendships and make new ones.

Places
Everyone!

tudents Monica Hartley, Ginny McSwain, Philip Bradshaw, Diane Choate, Amanda Lefler are "bombed out" as they welcome the 1993-94 school year with a morning bomb threat.

Opening

This school year, I expect to meet a lot of new people and make good grades. Ryan Griffin — Freshman

The students of Central are different in their own ways. Everyone has that "certain something" that makes him/her unique.

Strike

People

We like the fact that there are so many different kinds of people at Central because it gives you a better outlook on how the real world is going to be. Rob Haynie, Nick Young — Juniors

The ## Finale

We've finally come upon that final year, overwhelmed with joy but trembling with fear. To the class of '94 of Central High, are cherished memories that shall never die. Proud and strong, that's how we'll stand, let's leave our home, hand in hand. Farewell Central High, the home we trust, we hate to leave you but it's a must. The sea of our love overflows the soul, it fulfills our hearts and makes our spirits grow. My promise to you is "Friends to the end" because in our hearts we'll always be friends. As we start moving on and moving up, we mustn't forget where we grew up. To the teachers who have changed attitudes, words can't express our sincere gratitude. From this point on we must strive to succeed — If it is to be, It is up to me. Approach graduation with joy in your hearts, but tears in your eyes, because friends must part.

Besides school alone, Central students have a schedule full of activities, worries, and problems — and for some, a job. Then morning comes — back to school!

Student Life

I have two jobs. For fun I'm involved in community theatre which hopefully I can carry on into college. Luckily this year I don't have much homework so I can keep my grades up. The weekends I sleep, volunteer at the Hay House, or goof off with my friends. Shanda Bizzle

Kathryn Howard and Betsy Cable attended NCSA for four weeks during the summer.

Kevin Adams, Brian Adams, Wesley Wilson and Hartwell Carson have many fond memories of their experiences at Camp Ridgecrest.

Jennifer Lilley and Quintina Quick are only two of the many band members who spent their hot summer days at band camp.

CAMP OUT!

While lazy days of summer passed by, some students at Central were busy laughing their days away while others were practicing and drilling for the fall at summer camps. Betsy Cable, Kathryn Howard, and Chris Gilbert spent five weeks of their summer at North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. While there, they met many new friends and advanced their learning in jazz, modern, and ballet. Betsy said, "I especially liked free time when we sat around and just 'hung out'!"

Kevin Adams, Brian Adams, Hartwell Carson, Jay Carson, and Wesley Wilson also had a fun summer at Camp Ridgecrest for boys. The guys stay from two to eight weeks in the summer. Jay said that he has been coming to the camp for about eight years and that he never wants to stop. They all agreed that camp was a great place to meet new friends, learn crafts, and to venture into the forest. Hartwell summed it up in these few words, "It's cool, man!"

Kiki Marshall, Areecus Ross, and Joseph Redding sweated the days away as the Central Charger football team attended football camp. They said they had the most fun meeting new people and the "all you can eat" meals. They practiced four times a day and it really paid off.

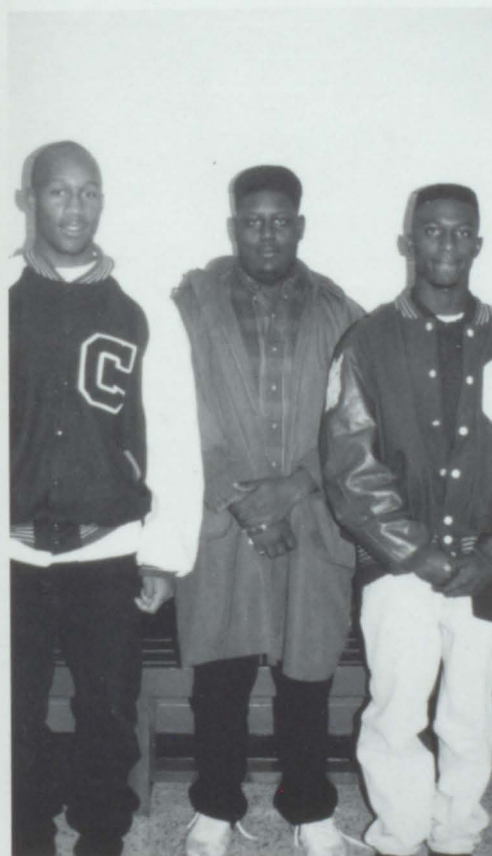

Another camp that our Chargers attended was band camp in Dahlonaga, Ga. The camp lasted one week in August. The band seemed to have a ball participating in the "Miss Wasiga" pageant and shared a tear or two during devotion night. Quintina Quick, a veteran flag corp member who went said, "I really gained a lot of self-esteem and learned with a great deal of hard work, I can fulfill my goals!"

So, as you make your fun-filled summer plans, consider camp — it's a place to have a blast!

Jay Carson is awarded the title Little Chief Eager Arrow at Camp Ridgecrest in North Carolina.

Kena Marshall, Joseph Redding, and Areecus Ross spent part of their summer practicing drills at football camp.

CHARGERS VOLUNTEER

While most Central Chargers are out enjoying themselves during the summer, some are also making plans for the future. Volunteering can be the best experience of a lifetime; it is not only beneficial to the community, but is fun as well. Many people praise the fact that they even have the opportunity to volunteer.

Deborah Wood, a senior, has been volunteering for as long as she can remember, starting out in her father's office. This summer she volunteered for Vacation Bible School at Vineville United Methodist Church and the Morning Star Day Camp at the Children's Methodist Home. The one thing that Deborah learned this summer was that, "It will help me to realize how fortunate I am and how much I have to give to others."

Quivonda Huston, also a senior, volunteered at the Medical Center of Central Georgia. There was no specific duty because she worked wherever she was needed. Like many students, she volunteered because for most scholarships, community service is required. Quivonda hopes to someday pursue a career in the medical field. She would like to leave Chargers with a word of advice, "Always be true to yourself; that way you will be true to others. Sometimes, monetary values don't come in the beginning but it in the long run, you receive a larger reward for your efforts."

Some students spend their time working with children; Johnetta Farrar, a junior, volunteered at a day care center. The advantage for her is the future dream of working with children in a profession. Johnetta believes that, "Children are our future."

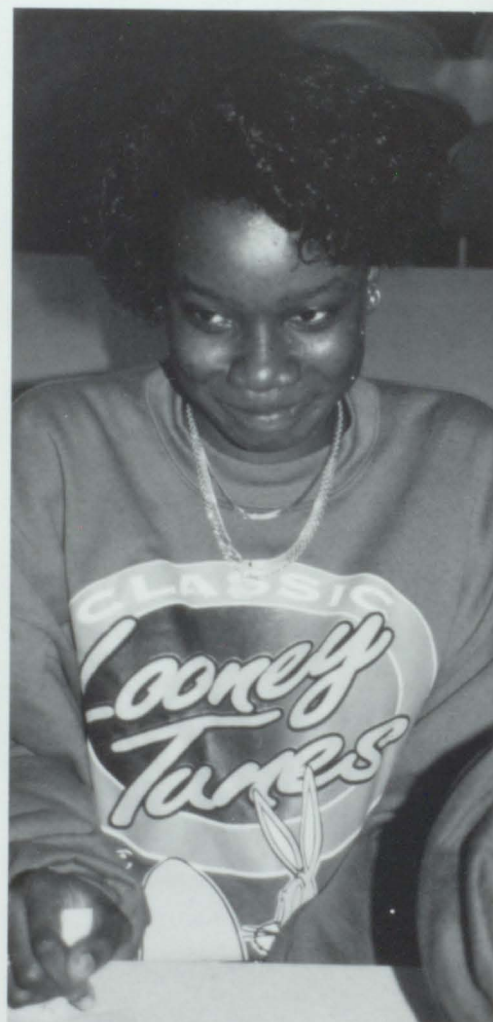

If you are looking for a worthwhile way to spend some time, consider volunteering your time in some way. It is rewarding, interesting, and can even be the beginning of a career!

During her "spare time", Quivonda Huston volunteers at the Medical Center of Central Georgia helping the staff and the patients.

With the dream of working with children in the future, Johnetta Farrar dedicates her time to children at a daycare.

Vineville United Methodist Church and Morning Star Day Camp at the Methodist Children's Home really enjoyed Deborah Wood's help with teaching and aiding with the children.

When that school bell rings, everyone buzzes through the halls to their lockers and then out the door. The bus or a car awaits them. Once they leave, where do they go? What activities do students have outside of school? A lot of people have jobs for various reasons, mostly to earn money. Demond Howard works in the meat department at Kroger on Forsyth "for extra cash!" Besides the local grocery stores, like Kroger and Food Max, some students work in privately-owned stores or their parents' businesses. Students interested in the arts sometimes participate in the drama scene. "I teach pre-ballet to ages three through seven two days a week at the YWCA," Rai Anne Ivey says. Other than jobs, students often just hang out — volunteering, going to movies, participating in hobbies, or even partying every now and then.

Tony Tamboli converses with a group of youth from Italy. They exchanged stories and souvenirs.

The procession of priests, bishops, archbishops, and cardinals enter Mile-High Stadium in Denver, Colorado.

Rachel Graham, from Central, Cindy Dockrell from Mount de Sales, and Cambell Austin from Mount de Sales were three of the lucky ones to travel to Denver last summer.

A PILGRIMAGE TO SEE THE POPE

Not having air-conditioning on a bus filled with forty-six people did not stop four Central students from getting the chance of a lifetime. Tony Tamboli, Patrick Hayden, Rachel Graham, and Mark McClellan were the lucky ones to get this opportunity. Mile High Stadium in Denver, Colorado was the place to be this past summer in early August to sneak a peek of Pope John Paul II.

"That place was a mad house," said Mark. "It took me five hours to get to the bathrooms and back to my group." St. Joseph's Catholic Church, along with eight other groups from Georgia got front row seats during the Pope's speech on the last day. The week was filled with exciting events such as the procession of priests, bishops, archbishops, and cardinals. A church chaperone was lost at one point however.

The Pope goes to a different country every second year and this was very possibly the only time he will come to the United States and speak.

Denver's local radio stations were donating their own air time for this huge event. They translated the Pope's speech in many different languages on the last day. The meals were sponsored by McDonald's the whole week. "I don't think I'll be eating McDonald's for a while," said Rachel. To pass some time away there was a competition between quite a few people from different church groups. A plane with the addresses of people who were attending this event flew over the stadium and the people in the stadium had to copy down all the addresses they could get. "The amount of people there was overwhelming," said Tony.

Besides the excruciating temperatures, the weather was great. I came back redder than a lobster," said Patrick. These students had an excellent time this summer, and it was something that they will never forget.

Mark McClellan and Matt Hayden (whose parents coordinated the trip,) had a wonderful time seeing the Pope.

"It was a great experience!" — Tony Tamboli

Hard To Say "Goodbye."

"When I lost my oldest brother two years ago, I realized for the first time how hard death hits. I didn't really accept the fact that I never had the chance to say 'good-bye' or tell him how much he meant to me." — April Copeland

Teenagers are under great stress with bodily changes, school, extracurricular activities, jobs, and other people without having to deal with the loss of a close friend. Emotions torn apart and dreams shattered are brought to mind. These are stress-causing factors that need to be addressed so that others who have this experience may handle it better and know what to expect.

In November of 1991, Joey Frost, a very close friend of Jenny Croft's committed suicide. Jenny is now a junior and she said she was shocked by his decision. To help comfort herself during this time, she tried to help other people. Jenny said it made her feel better, "Being around his friends and others that were going through the same thing I was." She talked to her twin sister, Julie and her grandmother for support. Jenny grew closer to her sister during this time and felt she had gotten emotionally stronger as an individual. Even after all this time, she still feels sad and wonders, "Why did that happen?" Her advice for others going through this is to, "Make someone sit down and listen (to you) — and be open with them about your feelings."

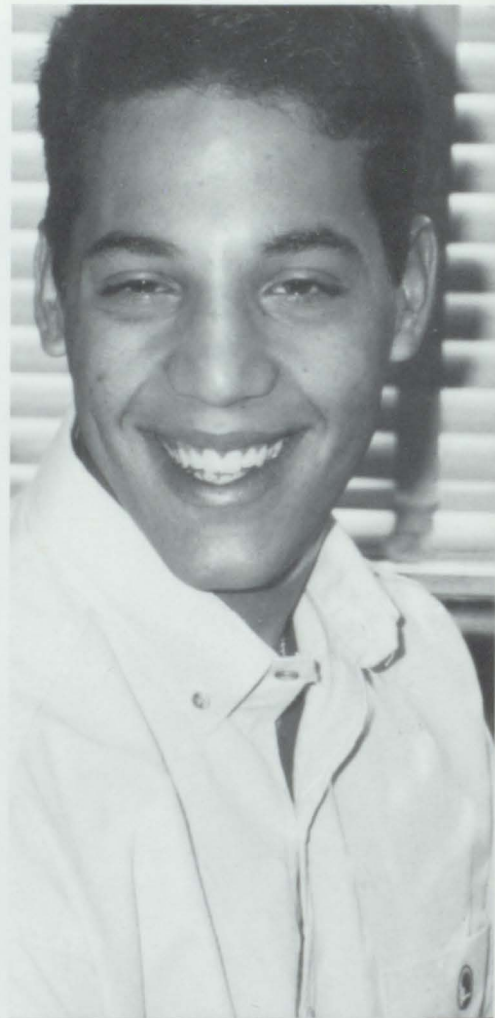

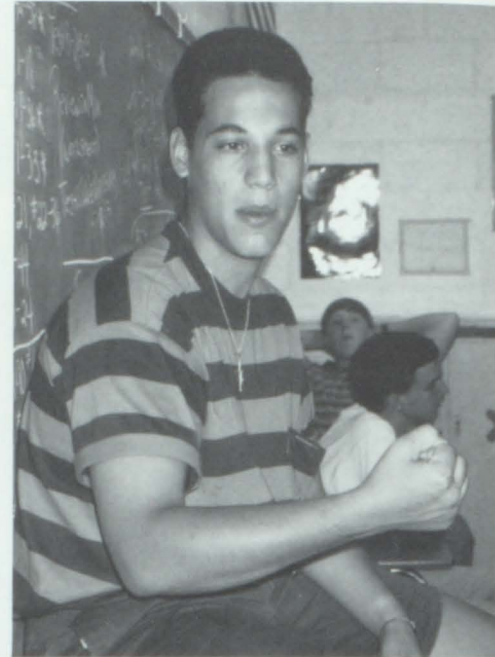

In June of 1993, the life of Carlos Young was tragically lost in an automobile accident. Jennifer Barber, a senior a good friend of Carlos', relates how she initially felt about his death. "It was like a dream, like it wasn't real." It was hard for many of Carlos' friends to accept. Senior Marvin Brown says when something of this nature occurs, "Sometimes it's better to wash away your hurt with tears." Jennifer stayed with friends almost constantly for comfort for several days and is now becoming more accustomed to the cold truth. She admits, "It's hard, especially at band. I'm used to having Carlos around." Marvin honestly states that, "You never really lose a true friend. They may be physically gone, but they're still in your heart."

In September of 1993, Drew Smith, a junior at First Presbyterian Day School, and cousin of Central student Elizabeth Winchester was killed in a car wreck. Madison says, "He was the last person I would think that would happen to," which is a unanimous feeling among all victims of lost loved ones. To ease her mind, Elizabeth remembered the good times Drew did while he was alive. She talked to her parents, Drew's parents, and Drew's friends to help her cope with his death. Madison has acknowledged the fact that Drew is gone, and the patient support of his girlfriend and good memories of his times with Drew, he trying to move on. Elizabeth gives truthful and sincere advice to everyone by saying, "Know that life is very fragile and at any moment can be taken away — be careful!"

at right — A smile like that can never be forgotten.

Carlos Young in the spring of 1993 stresses a point to his friends and classmates.

In JORGE, Jonathan Vance plays the guitar, Rachael Posnak plays the drums, Olivia Gowan sings, and Justin Joyner plays the bass.

JORGE'S first tape, Don't Lick the Wall, was very popular among many Central students.

Central is proud to call these talented students its own: Justin Joyner, Jonathan Vance, Rachael Posnak, and Olivia Gowan.

CURIOUS ABOUT JORGE?

In a school bursting at the seams with talent, a group of four students are trying to make it big in the competitive world of music. Central juniors Jonathan Vance, Justin Joyner, and Rachael Posnak along with senior Olivia Gowan have formed the band, "Jorge."

This band was started in Jonathan and Justin's eighth-grade year when they began playing their guitars together. The two decided to get a little more serious with their music when they discovered their drummer, Rachael Posnak. These three, in their freshman year, formed the band "Froot Loop Soop". They played frequently in places around middle Georgia such as Last Friday.

"Froot Loop Soop" decided that they needed a lead singer to join their band, and that is when Jonathan found Olivia and asked her to audition for them. Olivia says that she thought Jonathan was kidding at first, but then she actually sang for the band and was given a job.

"Froot Loop Soop" later changed its name to "Jorge." Jonathan plays the lead guitar, Justin is on the bass guitar and sings the back-up vocals, Olivia is lead vocalist, and Rachael is the drummer. "Jorge" is not only a great band because of their musical abilities, but also because of their performing abilities. As Olivia says, "The band puts on an act for the audience." "Jorge" plays all around Macon at places such as Martin and Millers, Rivalry's, and last Friday, as well as various parties. "Jorge" played at last year's 8th grade-9th grade dance, and the Pro-Choice benefit at Ingelside Village Pizza.

"Jorge" is an extremely talented band that represents Central well; check it out!!!

The academics at Central are very challenging, fun, and interesting. However, students only get out of it what they put in!

EARTH WATCH

The time has come to save the earth. It is up to the youth of today to devise a way to do just that. The goal of the Water Board was to learn the status of America's youth on the environment. The first annual Georgia Water and Pollution Control Association Youth Convention was held on August fourteenth and fifteenth in Columbus, Georgia at the Sheraton Inn. The theme for the convention was "How can we protect our community streams?" The initial purpose of this convention was to "arouse an interest in the environment, motivate a desire for change, and develop a quest for careers in the water preservation field." Students were selected by their counselors, principals and science teachers. Many of the participants were active Earth Club members. The students had to have high scholastic achievement in science and show an interest in the environment. Fifty-six students, advisors and committee speakers were present. Five students represented Bibb County. The representatives for Central High School were Leigh Ann Clarke and Miriam Dennis.

The convention began with an open discussion and introductory session, followed by an address of the problems facing the environment, mostly dealing with water. Students from several counties made group presentations of their activities and efforts for restoration and control of the environmental problem. An Italian buffet luncheon followed. The evening session was spent suggesting solutions and actions that should be used in constructing environmental clubs and making the community aware to promote change. Also, time was spent in preparing a presentation for the adult Water Convention. In the night hours a pool-side social was given so that the students could socialize and form lasting friendships. Sunday began with a tour and brunch at the Columbus Water Works plant. The participants then traveled to the adult convention for the Water Board presentation, after which the students were allowed to tour the new Iron Works display.

Leigh Anne and Miriam were very enthusiastic. They each expressed how much they learned and enjoyed this experience. Leigh Anne said, "It was very interesting. I became aware of a lot of things. I never knew about the environment. I'm glad I got the opportunity to go". It prompted them to work harder to develop a strong, more active Earth Club at Central.

Leigh Anne Clark, Allison Holloway, Amanda Holloway, and Miriam Dennis are the Future Preservers of the Earth.

Other students will be going out of state to college.

Sean Mentzer is planning to go to Carnegie and Mellon College.

AFTER GRADUATION

Graduation is celebrated by everyone at one time or another. The question that comes during this time is, "What is next?" Here is what a few students plan on doing after they leave the halls of Central High School.

When Jason Harper arrived at Central as a freshman, he thought that it would be bigger and better than middle school. Apart from going to school, Jason works at Kroger. When he has a moment to catch his breath, he enjoys hunting and being with his friends. After graduation he plans to go to college, although he has not decided on which one to attend. "College is a definite 'yes' . . . it's just a question of where to go to college," Jason remarks.

Jennifer Story always knew she would graduate because she was determined to work hard and stay on top of her school work. After graduating, she wants to join the Air Force. She plans on going to college while there and majoring in Nursing. Jennifer's advice is simply, "Work always comes first — then play all you wish."

Sean Mentzer moved to Macon last year from Pennsylvania.

When he graduates, he plans to attend Carnegie and Mellon College and wants to major in Physics, Architecture, and Math. Sean would like to be remembered by saying, "I believe in God and my car."

Most students at Central have a general idea of what they would like to do after they graduate. They plan to further their education, join the Armed Forces, or perhaps enter a vocation. What is next for YOU?

Some students plan to attend Mercer University.

CENTRAL'S WITH

America's PRIDE is an international drug prevention program for youth in high school. Through a team structure, America's PRIDE encourages students to reach out to their friends, younger students and the community with an assertive drug-free message young people become members of a team and initiate drug-free activities in the school and community. The name of Central's group is "Central's Charged with Pride."

The group consists of thirteen members: Michelle Caldwell, Tennille Evertt, Crystal Flowers, Amy Butt, Miki Hill, Kim Smith, CJ Wildes, Adriana Gibbs, Russ Mills, Tiffany Brown, Ladan Hall, Shandra Jackson, and Ardell Waller all went to Rock Eagle the weekend before school started for a training camp. The group has performed at a PTSO meeting, GA Academy for the Blind, and at the Drug Free Education conference at the Coliseum. Ms. Painter and Mrs. Adkisson, the group's sponsors, hope to attend the elementary and middle schools and churches to perform.

The America's PRIDE group is very talented and all the members work very hard. They are drug-free and also spread the message of dangers of drugs. The participants have to sign a drug free pledge and stick with it. The school family, home family, and community is all involved with this group. The purpose of the group is for kids to remain drug free.

Mrs. Painter and Mrs. Adkisson hope to pull in more students for next year. Auditions for the group will be held in the spring. Right now some members of the group are singing solos and duets while others dance. The group is funded by Macon SAFE and they hope to someday raise enough money to go the National convention in Philadelphia.

The goal of Americas Pride is to help others be drug-free through example and leadership. The Americas PRIDE program builds positive peer power leadership, team work, and effective communication skills.

Mrs. Adkisson says "I love every minute of working with these thirteen students. They're enthusiastic, energetic, and dedicated to helping kids stay drug-free."

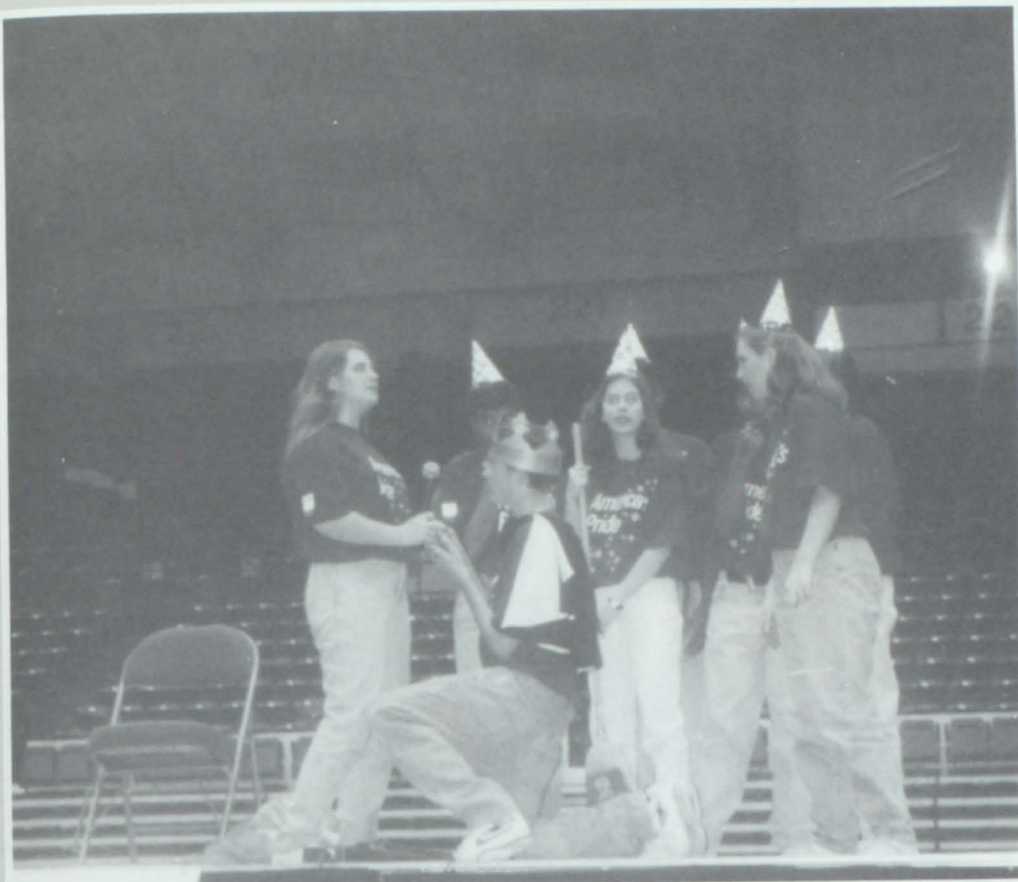

Ladan Hall said, "Beat the street, America's Pride is neat."

Pat Painter and LaDan Hall are taking a break from the Pride Training Workshop at Rock Eagle.

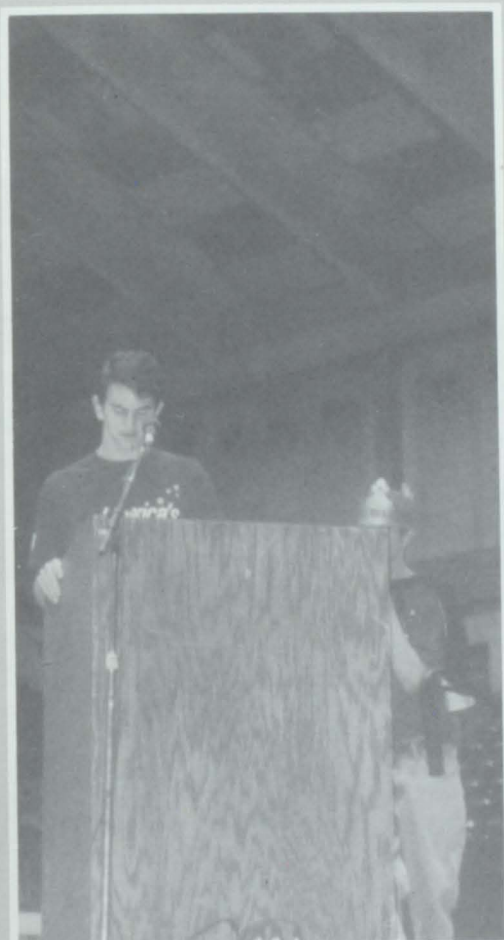

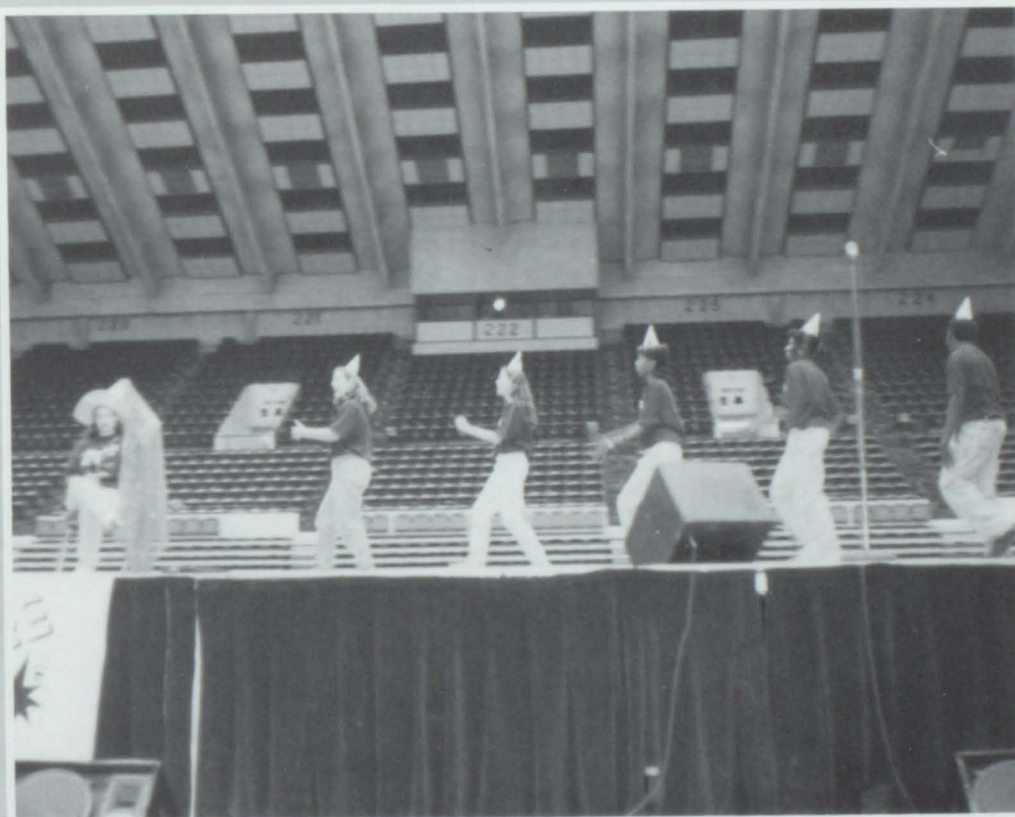

C.J. Wilder, Michelle Caldwell, Shandra Jackson, Kim Smith, and Amy Butt enjoy performing the skit "Snow White and Seven Dorks".

Tiffany Brown is making new friends at the Pride workshop.

Russ Mills delivers a speech to the Drug-Free Conference at the Macon Coliseum.

Members of Central's Charged with Pride enjoy dancing across the stage.

Jennifer Collins thinks scholarships are good and plans to apply for one.

Larry Freeman says "I think they are great. Even if you can afford college take it for what it is worth. If it saves you money — GO FOR IT!"

Mark Allen says "It's a way to go to college on a freebee. Your not spending any of your money so take it."

Chasity Shaw thinks that if a student qualifies for a scholarship . . . go for it!

Andrew Tripp says, "I think scholarships are great! They are, however, sometimes given to undeserving people. I think that all these scholarships for minorities are unfair. I think that scholarships should be given to people who deserve them because of music, grades, etc., not because they come from a certain race."

SCHOLARSHIPS

Everyone who plans to go to college needs to think about scholarships. There are many kinds of scholarships out there. Two scholarship types are "merit" and "need."

Mrs. Galloway explains the many different scholarships available for students. There are scholarships for writers, athletes, and people with a specific talent like music or art. There are also scholarships for students whose parents do not have a lot of money. A person can have any kind of G.P.A., it just depends on the scholarships. An example of that is Josten's Leadership Scholarship. Mrs. Galloway estimates that thirty percent of our seniors will receive scholarships. Students can receive as many scholarships as possible.

Mrs. Galloway would like for everyone to know that the student, himself, needs to do some research in order to find out about scholarships. Also, people need to be in the hardest classes for their ability to make good grades.

Dr. Hinesley informed us about the HOPE Grant. The HOPE Grant is run by the lottery. To qualify for this particular grant, the student should have at least a B average and their parents must have an adjusted gross income of less than $60,000.

The HOPE Grant has only been around for one year. A student can also receive a loan from the HOPE Grant during his sophomore year at college if the B average is maintained. If a student meets the standards of the HOPE Grant or any other scholarships, he or she should apply, says Dr. Hinesley. Dr. Hinesley encourages students to try because of his own experience with scholarships and grants.

Mrs. Herring also thinks students should try for scholarships. Sometimes the students might qualify. Although she was not encouraged to apply for scholarships, Mrs. Herring received one from her father's company. Then scholarships were mostly for boys; people thought girls could not meet the qualifications needed.

There are many scholarships waiting to be given to people. The students applying for scholarships should do the research required to be fully informed about particular scholarships so that he or she can apply for the ones that interests him or her.

Mrs. Galloway, Dr. Hinesley, and Mrs. Herring enjoy getting their picture taken.

THE SEMESTER SYSTEM

Every year a school goes through change. This year Central went from the quarter system to the semester system. This change has altered the grading periods. Instead of getting report cards three times a year, students receive them twice a year.

Ms. Hughes likes the semester system better than the quarter system because it benefits the student. However, she brings to mind the question that if a student does not understand the first half of Algebra I, can he truly be expected to understand anything from the second half? When Ms. Hughes was in high school, she changed every quarter. She did not have year-long courses with the same teacher and the same period except for classes like Spanish III or Spanish IV. She was able to plan her schedule to her preference so when she did not like the schedule she had no one but herself to blame. Ms. Hughes likes our semester system because it gives more of a variety of courses.

Amy Claxton feels that the semester system gives the students a diversity of teachers and different teaching methods, therefore better preparing students for college. The semester system has only been at Central for one year, but in the long run, Amy thinks the new change will better the education of public high school students, exposing them to many new methods of teaching. The semester system is a way of broadening their minds through diversity.

Schools go through many changes. However, many students and teachers agree that going to the semester system was a positive change.

Mrs. Hughes says there are more advantages than disadvantages to the semester system.

Mrs. Espy feels the semester system is good because it gives students a fresh start.

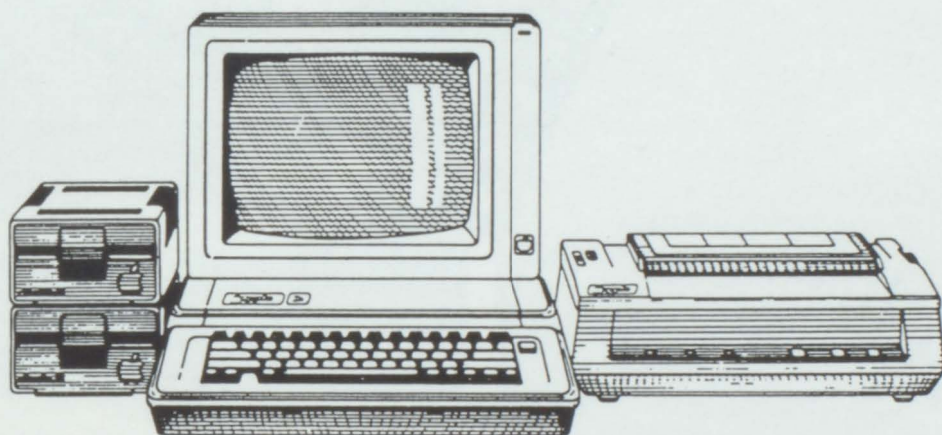

Amy Claxton enjoys meeting new people, therefore likes the semester system.

David Smith feels that the semester system is frustrating to everyone.

Because Cathy Carswell likes change, she enjoys the semester system.

Ashley McDaniel thinks the semester system is okay, it just takes a long time to get used to.

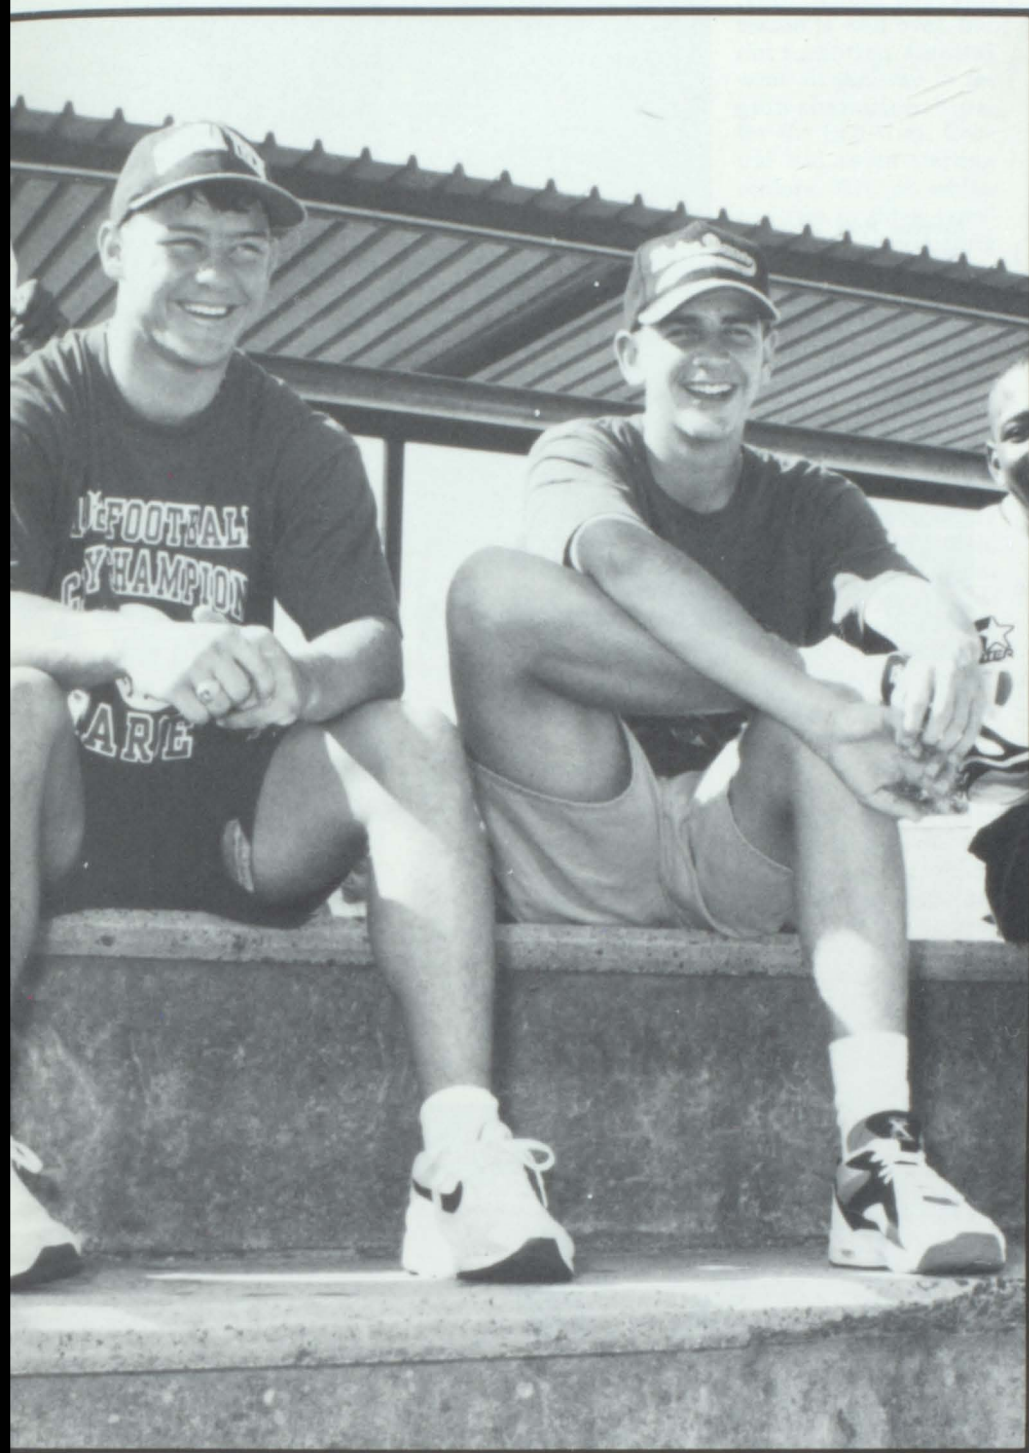

The coaches at Central strive to push their players to be their very best. The athletes work as hard as they can to win every game, match, and meet to become #1, but they understand that winning isn't everything.

ROLL 'EM UP!

"Last year we lost a couple of good seniors, but even though we have a young team I feel we will have great success with my leadership." — Areecus Ross

When I was young, I fell in love
Not with what you think, but a baseball glove.

It was on my birthday when I was six years old, I belonged to the game to mend and mold.

I went from a runt to a young man, Still I play on the field as hard as I can. Every day I awake — the dream is the same;

To never give up my love for the game.

— Alan Hancock,

Coach Steve Smith looks on in concentration.

The 1992-93 Central High School baseball season is well over, but not forgotten. Central went all the way to region championships, for the first time. Central had seven starting seniors, five of which had two to three years' experience, two starting juniors, and one starting sophomore. The team's head coach, Mr. Smith, says, "Practice doesn't make perfect; perfect practice makes perfect."

"Central battled all year to make it to the playoffs; no one thought we could do it, but we showed them all," team captain Lindsay Hodges said. Along with captain Robert Green, Hodges pushed their team to excellence. They experienced winning and losing streaks, but they seemed to win the games that really counted, giving the team a winning season and helping them advance into the subregion playoffs.

The team's main objective all year was to get to the playoffs and then take it all the way from there. Assistant Coach Wayne Holleman said, "This year we had a team that never gave up. They kept reaching for their goals and working hard. Success followed."

Once into the subregion playoffs, Central played a marvelous game against Warner Robins and defeated them 16 to 13 to put them out of the playoffs and placed Central into the Region Championships against Evans. Even though Central lost to Evans, the team still had a great year and will remember this season for a long time to come.

BATTER UP!

"Playing baseball helped me build my character and motivated me to try even harder next year." — Alan Hancock

"Each success on the baseball field gives [a person] a little more confidence, makes him walk a little taller; when he finally gets the winning hit or she makes that sensational fielding play, he or she learns, for a day, what it feels like to be a champion. Baseball can mean different things ... It's a way to work off energy, and to hone skills. It teaches them about sportsmanship and about working together for a common cause." — Norman Rockwell

TAKING IT ALL IN STRIDE

"Running a 5K was not exactly what I wanted to spend my time doing, but I psyched myself into it for the competition and exercise."

— Christa Johnson

The Central Cross Country team had an excellent year. They were able to take many first and second place victories, with the help of their five top runners, Kinte Mann, Kevin Willis, Joey Eells, Dwarka Jackson, and Pharaoh Owens. Unfortunately they placed fourth in the Region, and only the first three teams were able to go to the State Meet. Kinte Mann, Central's top runner, placed third in the Region and was named Macon Telegraph All Middle GA Runner. He was able to compete in the state run. The majority, including the girls, ran to prepare themselves for basketball. Overall, the competition was hard work and the exercise was great!

Joey Eells gives a thumbs up for a long, hard, good run.

Alveno Nelson and Jason Little run beside each other so they can give each other extra encouragement.

Central's tennis team was once again City Champs during the 1992-1993 school year. The girls with their 7-1 record went all the way to the Region Tournament which was held in Macon this past spring. The boys' team was also superior with an 8-0 record, and qualified in Region to advance to the State Tournament in Atlanta last May.

The players are instructed by Coach Simonton (girls' team) and Coach Dixon (boys' team). They practice very hard, and their dedication is shown by the fact that they have been City Champs for the past 15 years.

CHARGING THE GOAL

The Central Chargers had a tough season this year by going 3-7. The team was very inexperienced with only 5 experienced seniors. This lack of experience didn't stop the Charger pride, however; it continued to flow throughout the season. The team continued to fight and started to progress and to improve towards the end of the season. They should do well next season and in seasons to come. Remember, you can only keep a Charger down for so long; then he rises to the top once again. Best wishes to the team next season — continue to fight and don't ever give up. You're the best." — Joseph Redding

Hoop, there it is!

"For the past couple of years we've been disappointed by ending the season early, but for the Charger Seniors there is no tomorrow so I think this year we'll surprise a lot of people and I think we'll do it for ourselves and the coaches." — Monquencio Hardnett

This year's boys' basketball team has been a success. The boys have a 10-4 record and are undefeated at home. We recently came in second in the Bank South Christmas tournament. Monquencio Hardnett and Dwarka Jackson were named to the All Tournament team.

The 93-94 Varsity Team has 6 seniors who have showed super leadership to the underclassmen. Out of the six seniors, four are starters.

The Chargers are currently ranked number 10 in the state. The Chargers are taking things one game at a time. We have been successful this way so that is how we are going to keep it. With hard work and a good attitude we will go all the way to the top. We have the best coaching around, so we think we have the advantage on other teams.

Everyone just needs to watch the Chargers this year as we take it all. We are state bound.

SLAM DUNK

It doesn't matter if you play basketball for the school or at home, it's your love for the game that really counts.

You don't have to be the next Jordan, just be yourself.

You may sometimes be open for a shot but you don't always have to shoot the three pointer

You may get lots of scholarships for colleges but can you make it?

You don't have to ballhog, just play as a team member.

It doesn't matter how much you play; the main point is to have fun.

Now that's basketball!

"Although we had a good team last year, we were very disappointed in the sub region finals because we didn't play up to our potential. But this year is a whole new year and we plan on making up for what we missed on our last season." — Roderick English

Dwarka Jackson shows Southwest the proper way to make a lay up.

THE LADY CHARGERS

This year's Lady Chargers basketball team has jumped onto the scene with the eye of the tiger and the instinct for survival. The team has had many obstacles to overcome, considering the loss of seven seniors. Their coaches Ron Little (head coach) and John Dixon (assistant coach) have taught them that with a little hustle and hard work they can accomplish anything.

"It was a difficult season, but we hustled and did our best." Teecha Dennis

The girls' season still holds many promises for them due to the amount of desire and dedication they have for the game. At this point their record is 6 wins and 5 defeats.

Shantell Johnson is the only senior on the team. Veronica Lewis, Sharon Hunter, and Teecha Dennis are getting a great deal of experience and playing time. Most importantly the Lady Chargers are starting two freshmen, Shalandra Parker and Melinda Jones.

Because of the hard work and dedication of this team, the year will surely be a successful one.

This is an easy shot for Shantelle Johnson.

The team gathers around their coaches to get the next play.

CHEERING ON THE CHARGERS

The 1993-94 Varsity Cheerleading Squad may be a new one, but you would not be able to tell by watching them. Though they are technically, "baby varsity's", seven of the ten girls cheered for B-team, and five of those seven have been cheering together since middle school. Only one of the girls is a senior.

The girls attended a summer camp to get geared up for the upcoming year. At camp, they learned new stunts and cheers that they used for both football and basketball season. During the basketball games the varsity cheerleaders used time-outs and the periods between quarters to show their Charger pride.

All in all, they had a good time. The girls learned a great deal and improved their techniques and strategies. This was a great year for them.

WRESTLING

"We are very strong team and we have a lot of young talent and we will be back next year." — Steven Stembridge

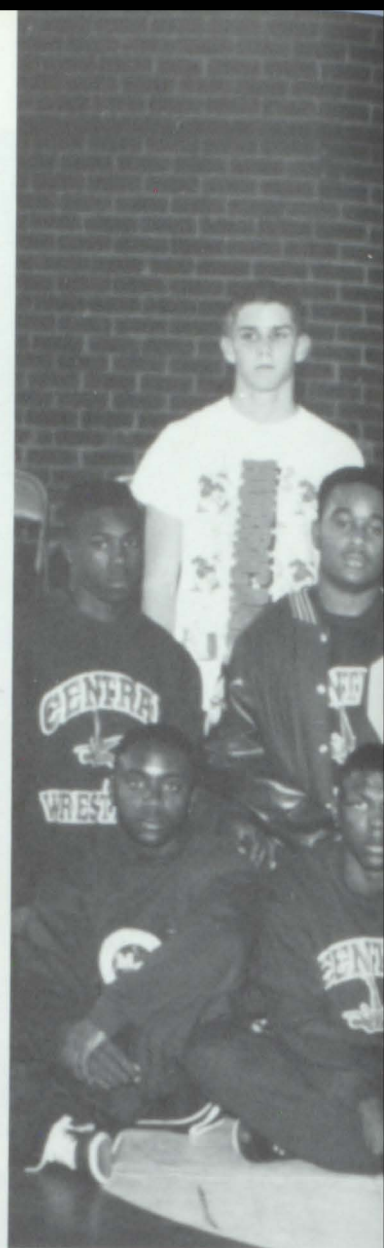

"Charger pride is what it's all about. It was the power that led the Charger wrestlers to the mat this year. With Coach Jimmy Stewart and Coach Randy Carr heading it up, the wrestling team surpassed great odds. Although they were young, the team beat many teams that the Chargers have never beat before. Also, the team not only did well in all the tournaments they competed in, but they brought home a first-place trophy, the first for Central. The coaches have big plans for the team next year and with all the returning wrestlers I don't think they will fail them." — Eric Turner

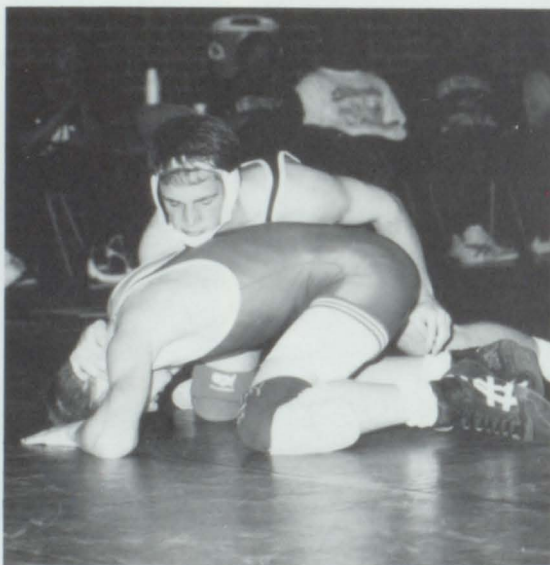

The Turner twins cheer on their teammates.

The Charger Wrestling Team

There is no holding back Brian Chipman.

Alexis Bailey attempts to flip his challenger.

The wrestling careers of Eric and Jason Turner have been victorious ones. It all began around the middle of wrestling season during their ninth-grade year. Eric Turner had to join a higher weight class because at that time there wasn't anyone in his own class. He wrestled at 112 weight class, had a great record, and went on to represent the Charger pride at state for two years. Eric wrestled in an even higher weight class and placed second in the area and went to state for a third year.

Jason Turner started out by beating a varsity wrestler when he was only in the ninth grade. Jason wrestled at 103 weight class and also went to state for two years in a row. He didn't continue to wrestle in the eleventh grade, but rejoined the team during his senior year.

Jason and Eric Turner had a great year wrestling in twelfth grade. Jason placed in four tournaments, and Eric placed second in the area. They both went to state and did very well. Central is proud of its wrestling twins.

Tal Israel shows no mercy when he wrestles.

Jerome Pope shakes the hand of his next victim.

The Earth Club was busy this year. A recycling program, Earth week, and the Pledge Tree are just a few of this year's events.

The Earth Club established a recycling program. Boxes for paper were placed in classrooms and were picked up periodically by the Macon Iron and Paper Stock Company.

A Pledge Tree, a can ball, and a T-shirt sale were all a part of Earth Week '94. The Pledge Tree was a chance to show commitment to improving the world.

The Beta Club is a non-profit leadership-service organization for high school students. This club's purpose is to stimulate effort, reward achievement, and to encourage and assist its members to continue their education after high school. To be in this club you must have a worthy character, good mentality, creditable achievement, and commendable attitude along with at least a 3.5 grade point average.

Mr. Caldwell is head of this club. There are 180 members in this club at Central alone.

The purpose of the Central High School Humanities Club is to expose students to the cultural aspects of life. Frequently they enlighten themselves by attending the theater, concerts, and are exhibits. They go to interesting restaurants, like Dante's in Atlanta. Halloween and Christmas parties have been given. The club is a major contributor to Theatre Macon.

VOCA

DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, is a co-curricular club for students who are enrolled in Starting Your Own Small Business, Marketing Principles and Fashion Marketing classes. The club participates in state conferences; Region, State, and National Competition as well as social and civic activities throughout the school year. They have held a Pizza Hut social, dressed in Halloween costumes while giving candy bags to the Children's Hospital, collected money for Kids Yule Love and attended regional competition.

DECA B is a very productive club. They have been very active in the community with the Halloween Carnival at Freedom Park, a Thanksgiving canned food drive, Christmas visit to local nursing homes, assisting Foxie 100 Christmas toy drive, and sending role models to local elementary schools with the DARE program. Mr. and Mrs. DECA for this year are Bryant Raines and Regina Hill.

The purpose of VOCA is to provide opportunities for students to work with business and industrial leaders. It helps develop leadership abilities through participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational, local clubs, and social activities. It was organized to help provide recognition on the local level for CVAE students. It gives students the opportunity to participate and become involved in school activities.

To be successful
For a life complete.

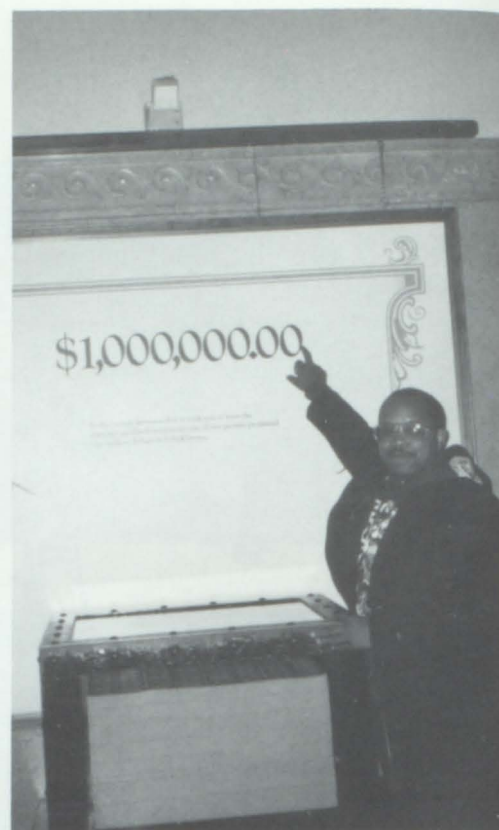

Stacy Bambarger, Lori Bacchus, Brian Finley, and Jon Atwater visit the Children's Hospital on Halloween.

The members of VOCA take a minute out of class to pose for the camera.

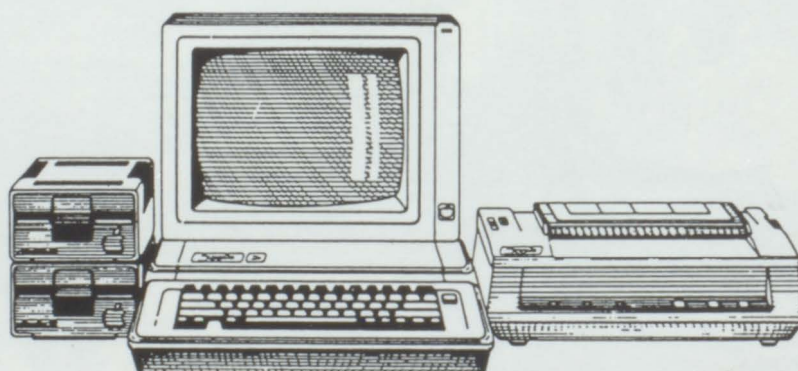

The members of the Black History and Culture Club held a Black History week in February which was climaxed by a banquet and dance. Along with these plans, the club actively sells candy as well as T-shirts which are in relation to black heroes. They have organized a trip to the Civil Rights Museum in Montgomery, Alabama to end the 1993-1994 school year.

Bessie Yang, Wilson Southerland, and Ellie Moshtael are the officers for the 1993-94 Academic Team.

Genesis

The drama club is responsible for producing all aspects of the one-act play for the one-act play competition in the fall. There are usually two to three plays produced per year. Actors in plays are drawn from both the drama club and the school in general. Thus, the drama club serves essentially as an organization for students to discuss, interpret, and act on various dramatic situations.

The Central High newspaper is a popular aspect of the high school experience. Entitled Charger Pride, the goal of the newspaper is to produce six newspapers per year. Since it is considered a journalism course, the students are responsible for the processes that make up the production of the Charger Pride. Mrs. Hinesley has been in charge of the Charger Pride for almost 14 years.

Genesis began as a dream of two. It became a heartfelt desire of many; it proved itself a shining example of the richness within African-American culture.

A group of 35 students, under the guidance of Ms. Dianne Henry and Ms. Sonja Matthews, participated in a variety of upbeat expressions of African-American heritage via dance, song, theater, and oral interpretation.

Mrs. Hinesley confers with Jennifer Shimler about the recent publication.

Anna Gail Odom listens intently to instructions.

Central's Model United Nations group went to Washington, D.C. in February. They went to participate in the North American Invitational Model United Nations representing many countries including Burundi, Costa Rica, and the Russian Federation. The group of 40 students along with Mrs. Middleton and Mrs. Dumas worked very hard during their stay and Jeremy Cole and Andy Boggs brought back an award for the school.

Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time and even the long overnight train ride created many unforgettable memories. The students all gained something from the experience. It is a great opportunity which everyone should look into!

Deborah Wood, Jennifer Long, and Allison Smith are the Student Council officers.

Student Council does many things. One of these is to set up suggestion boxes in the offices so that students may give their opinions on what is happening at school. Student Council participates in PTSO and plans the Junior-Senior Prom.

Beyond Words . . .

Travis Hartley is the lucky junior who survived the car accident of Carlos Young in June of 1993. Travis was riding in the passenger side of Carlos' Dodge Ram when Carlos hit a tree. Travis was fortunate enough to get out of the flaming truck, but he also suffered a punctured lung and a broken right forearm. Forty-two percent of his body had third degree burns. His left leg was amputated six inches below the knee.

Travis did not know that Carlos had died in the crash until six weeks later. When he found out, he was severely depressed and blamed himself. Carlos' mother helped Travis by coming to visit him and talking to him. Travis had nine surgeries, hyperbaric oxygen treatment, whirlpool treatment, physical therapy, and prosthetic therapy.

Travis is getting back in the routine of things, realizing he can't change the past. He says his leg, "is not state of the art, but I'm getting used to it." When looking back on what helped him get through, Travis gives all credit to Carlos' parents, his own parents, his friends, and determination. Travis said, "I knew he (Carlos) was watching me and I knew how bad it would hurt him to see me quit." He said to remember that, "There's always tomorrow." Travis would like to recognize Mr. Young and Mrs. Betty — Thank You!

Travis Hartley had no problem coming back to school or being with his friends.

Travis found great comfort from Mr. Emmett and Mrs. Betty Young.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNERS

Freshman Kyle Young received first place for his project entitled, "Handedness?"

Jennifer Capps won second place on her project on leaves.

Brandon Poarch stands proudly in front of his Photosynthesis project from the Science Fair. He placed in the Botany category.

The Master himself — Bob Barnette

It all started in the fifth grade when Bob Barnett, Central's prized band director for 28 years, played as the first trumpet in the Macon Bibb County Elementary Band. Throughout high school he played the trumpet in the band and in the orchestra at Lanier. In his senior year, Bob was the solo trumpet in the Georgia Allstate Band in Atlanta. He received a full scholarship to the University of Georgia where he played in the Red Coat Band. Bob worked through college by playing with professional bands. When he was 19 he was hired to play with the Glenn Miller Orchestra.

Bob began teaching in Sparta, GA. He left after one year and was hired at Lanier where he stayed for three years. He then moved to Daytona, Florida where he led the Seabreeze High School Band. Bob returned to Lanier in 1970 and has been directing the Sugarbear Band since. He served as the district instrumental chairman for the 11th district of the Georgia Music Education Association. He was the state president of the Georgia Association of Jazz Educators and started the Allstate Jazz Band program in Georgia.

Bob finds it hard to come up with a "best memory," but one that sticks out in his mind is when Bill Clinton played with the Sugarbear Band while speaking in Macon. His saddest memory is losing band members to accidents resulting in death.

Even though this is Bob's last year at Central, he's still going to remain busy with other activities. You will be able to find him at the Macon Symphony Youth Orchestra where he will be directing. He will also be playing with the Macon Symphony and directing a jazz program at Macon College. He will also be enjoying playing golf, hunting, and fishing which are some of his favorite hobbies.

After Bob leaves Central he hopes that the Sugarbear Band will continue their Superior performance levels that they have maintained for 30 years. He also wants them to continue to serve the school system and the community. He says for the band to remember that, "Healthy competition breeds excellence" and, "They must never accept anything from themselves other than their best effort in everything they do. The most fulfilling experience that one can have is helping others."

Central High School thanks Bob for all of his time, dedication, and work and wishes him the best of luck in the future. Thanks Mr. B!! We'll miss you!

We Lead In Excellence . . .

The Central High School JROTC is one of the oldest JROTC units in America. It was started in 1917 when Central was a school for boys and for fifty years JROTC was a required class. Through the years JROTC classes at Central have become a tradition.

In order to be a part of JROTC you have to be healthy, proud of your citizenship in the United States, and at least thirteen years of age.

In JROTC you learn about many things such as First Aid, drug abuse, techniques of communication with others, leadership, map reading, America citizenship, and American History. It unlocks potential career opportunities and provides a number of extra curricular activities.

"It's as easy or as hard as you want to make it," states Col. Schroder.

Central's "STAR" student!

"When Dr. Hinesley first told me that I had been chosen Star Student, I was very excited. The senior class is full of talent this year, so I regarded it as a great honor. The first criterion considered in choosing the Star Student for a school is SAT scores, but Dr. Hinesley explained to me that there is more to it than that. They also look at grades and school activities — things that show personal initiative. I've been told since I was five that if I did not work hard for scholarships, I would not be able to go to the college that I wanted. They didn't have to tell me twice! That has been my goal all through school, and I want to thank all of the members of the faculty who had a hand in choosing me and for helping me to get one step closer to that goal.

Making a choice for Star Teacher was difficult because I have had so many teachers that I feel 'made a contribution to my success as a student'. I chose Ms. Peggy Nipper, my REACH teacher from Springdale Elementary, because I felt that she made the greatest contribution of all — she got me started! Besides being my friend, she fed my curiosity of new things. In teaching us about things we were interested in, she taught us how to learn and think. I would like to thank Ms. Nipper for her boost of self-confidence. Nobody can get anywhere without a little self-esteem. We have to believe in ourselves, but it's nice when others believe in us, too. Thanks, Ms. Nipper.

Amy,
From start to finish, you've always made us proud.
Congratulations!

All our love,
Mom and Dad

In 1976 our country celebrated its 200th birthday. Banners waved, flags flew, and Daddy and Mommy celebrated the birth of our daughter. You were so anxious to enter this world that we barely arrived at the hospital before you were born. From day one you have always been so full of life. We should have named you Joy instead of Jennifer, because you have filled our hearts and life with so much of it. You were always the one who was aware of our feelings. You made cards to give, even before you could write. Cards for every holiday, special occasion, or just if we were feeling blue. You made us pictures and crafts, all with the same message, "I Love You," always giving of yourself from your heart. It's apparent to see what a beautiful young woman you have become, but those of us who know you best know that your real beauty is an inner one. When God made you He made you so very special. He planted a seed of love and compassion in your heart. We are proud to call you ours. Your childhood has passed too quickly. We don't say goodbye, because you will always live in our hearts. We don't say good luck because you have the potential to be anything. Regardless of the path you choose to take, others will be blessed because you have passed their way. We love you with all of our heart just for being our Boo.

Love,
Daddy and Mommy

Psalm 51:7-11

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

Hide thy face from my sins and blot out all mine iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit in me.

Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy Holy Spirit from me.

Love,
Renee

"I was concerned when I heard I was getting a new student with the physical problems that Lee had. However, Lee quickly dispelled these concerns, for he was the kind of student that every teacher dreams of having — eager to learn, enthusiastic about every new task, always pleasant, and friendly to everyone. As time passed and hopes faded, Lee's greatest pleasure was coming to school and he became a real inspiration, an example of courage. His presence made his teachers and classmates better in every way." — Velma Gene Clarke

LIKE A DREAM

You have been, and will always be,
a friend;
In everything that you would do,
you'd win
Just letting everyone know, the way you cared,
By a hug, a smile, a joke, or a song
you shared.
Like the flutter of a beautiful,
colored butterfly,
Your memory lingers, with moments passing by.
As the sound of a trumpet note
sounding so bright,
The thoughts hang, as clear as a chandelier lights
Though the question may linger,
as to the reason, why?
You may have left, but no, this isn't good-bye.
The friends you made, both old and young
Will honor your name in songs to be sung.
Like a dream, your short life did surely expand.
You were like a child, but you were a man.
The affection you showed helped us
To get through, so Carlos, look down on us for we truly love you.

— Buddy Simms

I'M FREE

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God has laid you see.
I took His hand when I heard his call.
I turned my back and left it all
I could not stay another day
To laugh, to love, to work or play, Tasks left undone must stay that way
I found the peace at the close of day.
If my parting has left a void
Then fill it with remembered joys.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss
Oh yes, these things I too will miss.
Be not burdened with times of sorrow
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, good times, a loved one's touch.
Perhaps my time seemed all too
brief.
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief
Lift up your hearts, and peace to thee.
God wanted me now, He set me
free.
